

Tourist receiver

> ATR 200

- ▶ Extremely small (< 7 cm) and light weighted (43 g)
- ▶ 10 pre-programmed channels
- ▶ Canal encoding
- ▶ Large display, easy to read

The ALBRECHT ATR 200 is an extremely small and lightweighted radio receiver especially being developed for tourist guides.

Containing just three buttons, it can be operated easily. Furthermore it includes 10 pre-programmed channels such as canal codings for undisturbed reception. Last but not least the receiver features a large display.

Ensuring a more comfortable use, the travel members can either use an earphone with 3,5 mm connector (standard mobile phone headset) or a micro-USB connector (THS01 headset, included)

For perfect communication between tour guide and its travel members, we recommend using the ALBRECHT ATT 100 transmitter (art. code 29902).
