MIDLAND ALAN 42 DS

CB RADIO

Thanks to state-of-the-art technology, the Alan 42 DS portable CB radio offers a unique audio experience. It is equipped with digital noise suppression, ANL filters, and a noise blanker, all of which eliminate any disruptive noise caused by sources outside the vehicle.

Due to its multiband capability, this portable CB radio transmitter can be used in all European countries.

For maximum flexibility, the unit comes with two interchangeable battery compartments for portable use, as well as a 12V vehicle power adapter for mobile use in a car.
