A true all-rounder, the compact Albrecht DR 112 outdoor radio not only provides listeners on the go with the latest news and music (reception via FM / DAB+ / streaming), but also doubles as a flashlight, reading light, thermometer, and power bank—all without an external power supply! As a solar-powered or wind-up radio, the Albrecht DR 112 is independent of external power sources, making it perfect for outdoor activities and of course, everyday situations. Back at home or in the car, the DR 112 can be conveniently charged via a USB port.
